

WE NOMINATE

Henry Pitney Van Dusen, one of the Western World's distinguished theologians, a leader in the formation of the World Council of Churches, and President Emeritus of Union Theological Seminary (New York City), who this week completed one of the longest terms of Trustee service in the modern-day history of Princeton University — 34 successive years as a Charter Trustee. This eminent Princetonian, a full-time resident of the community for the past five years, was cited over the weekend by his fellow Trustees as he attained the rank of Trustee Emeritus for life, the designation reserved for Trustees reaching the age of 70.

Among the first Protestant spokesmen to insist that Protestantism must play a trail-blazing role in helping solve the problems of America's deeply troubled cities, Van Dusen over his career in a dozen different areas has merited the description penned by his Princeton associates: "Always dedicated, always forthright, always perceptive." Even after his retirement in 1963 from the presidency of Union Theological, probably the most influential school of theology in the United States, Van Dusen continued to travel widely in Africa and East Asia and to turn out "some of the clearest and most muscular Christian writing of his time."

Following graduation from Princeton as a Phi Beta Kappa member of the Class of 1919, Van Dusen was uncertain as to what the future held. He spent two years here as Secretary of what is now the Student Christian Association and turned for advice to the greatest Presbyterian preacher and pastor of his time, Henry Sloane Coffin. Coffin advised him to do what he himself had done: "study for a year at Edinburgh, then return for the balance of his training at Union." Van Dusen agreed, and thereupon began walking in Dr. Coffin's footsteps, joining the Union Seminary faculty in 1926, and two decades later succeeding Dr. Coffin as president.

During the most frenetic years, when he was shouldering heavy responsibilities in shaping the Assemblies of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam (1948), Evanston, Ill. (1954) and New Delhi (1961), the Philadelphia-born Van Dusen was concerned with the development of a score or more organizations ranging from major foundations to small secondary schools. At one point a partial listing of his commitments showed that he was serving as a trustee of 19 important undertakings, including The Rockefeller Foundation, The General Education Board, women's colleges, a Russian Orthodox theological seminary, the United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia and Atlanta's Interdenominational Theological Center.

At this juncture in Christian history — with Roman Catholicism, Eastern Orthodoxy and Protestantism extending hands of friendship and understanding to one another — Van Dusen has stressed that "Christianity has become potentially a universal faith, a faith which is far more nearly universal than mankind's other most powerful contemporary faith — communism." His concept of Christianity as a truly global movement has been thoughtfully etched in many of his writings and expounded in pulpits in all parts of the world. And, somehow or other, he has managed to make time for writing 15 books and for editing another eight major publications.

For his achievements as a "Theologian for Unity," for combining wisdom and eloquence in his impressive record of service to his fellow men; for his "splendid contributions" to the many institutions, foundations and other ventures which have sought, and then benefited from, his assistance; he is our nominee as

IN MEMORY OF DR. KING
What Should It Be? The only true memorial is action and attitudes," mused Mrs. George Freeman, president of the Princeton Regional School Board this week as board members continued to search for a meaningful memorial to the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The search, in progress since Dr. King's assassination on April 4, assumed an added poignancy this week with the slaying of Senator Robert F. Kennedy.

The school board hopes to announce a final decision at its public meeting on June 26 at John Witherspoon School, but so far nothing firm has been decided.

The Princeton Pastors' Association asked the board to name Community Park School the "Martin Luther King Jr. School." The board is considering that request and also the possibility of naming the whole Middle School (Community Park plus Valley Road) for Dr. King.

In a letter to the board this week, the Rev. Kenneth Dannenhauer, president of the Pastors' Association, repeated the Association's request in the light of Senator Kennedy's death, and expresses the pastor's belief that naming Community Park School for Dr. King would be a highly visible symbol in this community of the non-violent style of life. "We believe that all our children and our total population will benefit from this constant reminder at a major traffic intersection, in this community committed to high humanitarian ideals."

Maey Aegles, However, there are other facets. Community Park is the school closest geographically to the John-Witherspoon area. If you name it for Dr. King, are you thereby marking it as a ghetto school? Or are you making it an object of pride and honor for Princeton's black residents?

If the entire Middle School — both buildings — were named "The Martin Luther King Jr. Middle School," it would never be called that, Mrs. Freeman predicts.

She cites various schools named "Benjamin Franklin" or "Thomas Jefferson" and suggests that people never think of those great men when they use the school's name.

"I like the idea of naming for Dr. King a program which would help the children," Mrs. Freeman says, "perhaps a guidance program involving children, parents and teachers — something which would help kids who would never get help otherwise."

The present "Focus on Skills" program that re-enforces youngsters so they can better cope with high school, might be named for Dr. King, Mrs. Freeman says.

The Rev. C. Shelby Rooks, who conceived the "Focus on Skills" idea, suggests a scholarship at Princeton High School in the name of Martin Luther King.

"If we're going to name a building, let's name it for a black person in Princeton's history," Dr. Rooks proposes, "give recognition to someone in our own area, a black person Princeton people could relate to."

"I'm not much on bricks and mortar as a memorial," he adds.

Everyone seems to agree that naming any building should be only one kind of memorial. Thomas Moore, a Negro member of the Board of Education, is sure to feel that specific actions — such as the recent hiring of a young Negro alumnus of Princeton High School to teach physical education — are more appropriate.

One parent in the community proposes an award to the Princeton High School student who best personifies Dr. King's ideas. The award might be a plaque, and there would certainly be a permanent plaque in the school, engraved with the names of winners. Money would come from a fund collected in the community.

It has also been suggested that the new library-study center in the Valley Road building be named for Dr. King.

Community feeling seems to be neutral, Mrs. Freeman is philosophical about the final decision because she realizes that you can't please everybody.

will continue to be prohibited, and the board eliminated the phrase urging consideration of "the reduced space needs of older residents thereby apparently wiping out the possibility of conversions."

• When sponsors come forward with specific housing proposals, the Planning Board will decide whether higher-density zones are needed and where they should be. This will eliminate the need for amending the zoning ordinance now, to pin-point specific locations in advance.

• When specific housing proposals are made, the Planning Board will view them in the light of nearby parks, recreation, schools, transportation-parking and utilities.

• Payments to the Township in place of property taxes will also be discussed with any low-middle housing applicant.

• The Township's low-income program "should include the rehabilitation and upgrading of existing substandard units." This clarifies the original, which had made it appear that any proposal for new low-income housing had to be related to rehabilitation. The change also eliminates the word "removal" in relation to substandard houses.

These revisions brought both criticism and praise. Theodore Vial, president of Princeton Community Housing, Inc., the mid-income agency, said "This looks like an open door to us; we're willing to go ahead."

Mrs. Harold Kuhn, for PAHIT, protested that the 200-unit limit, even though expanded by the phrase "in the immediate future," was "a blow to people's hopes. You are being extremely discouraging and unsympathetic."

PAHIT would like an "open-ended" definition, with no number of units specified, she said.

Mrs. Benson Carlin of the League of Women Voters, praised the board for "a much better statement, but it does make you appear very cautious. Which is the way you want to appear I'm sure."

She promised "We will come back to you and say 'how let's re-evaluate!'"

Hans K. Sanders, board chairman, said the board had a responsibility to the voters.

IT'S A CHANGING WORLD: Princeton University alumni held a short and subdued intramural parade at Saturday's reunion, veering from the traditional Nassau Hall-Clarke Field route to a quieter walk through the tree-shaded campus and ending at Blair Arch. The change, decided upon in deference to the funeral for Senator Robert F. Kennedy, "might be the start of a new tradition," a parading alumnus was heard to say, "and a good one." Pictured above are (left) the Class of 1922 passing West College; (right) members of '28 who came prepared for rain or glare, and (below) the alumni meeting before Blair Arch at the conclusion of the parade. TOPICS Of The Town

1,274 RECEIVE DEGREES At University's Commencement, Princeton University held its 221st commencement Tuesday morning in front of Nassau Hall under misty skies, conferring 1,274 degrees on recipients from all parts of the world. Leading the list of nine honorary degree recipients was Thomas P. F. Hoving, director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City, and a 1953 graduate of the University. His citation read in part: "He brings to the directorship of the nation's largest museum a refreshing combination of scholarship without stuffiness, deep seriousness without intolerance, devotion to quality without austerity, tradition without confinement. . . ."

Arthur J. Goldberg, U. S. representative to the United Nations, received an honorary doctor of laws degree. "To each activity he has brought exuberant energy, meticulous and earthy knowledge of fact, and a noble devotion to the achievement of peace and freedom, committed to the belief that when rational men put their confers. There is no such thing as a dead-end street."

Miss Marianne C. Moore, eminent American poet, became the 18th woman to receive a Princeton honorary degree. "From baseball to bas-links to Brooklyn the subjects of her poetry have the great breadth of life itself, since experience not abstraction is the essence of her elegant art."

Also honored was Princeton resident Harold K. Hochschild, 150 Stockton Street, industrialist, author and scholar. "Few men have achieved eminence in such different realms as the scholarly interpretation of past civilizations, the industrial empires of the present, and the strengthening of the emerging nations of the world," as has this quiet and dedicated amateur in the great historical tradition.

Others receiving honorary degrees were: John M. Doar, president, Bedford-Stuyvesant D and S Corporation, Princeton, Class of 1944; John Bardeen, physicist, Nobel Laureate, professor of physics and electrical engineering, University of Illinois; John E. Hines, Presiding Bishop, The Protestant Episcopal Church; Harold Howe II, U.S. Commissioner of Education; Edwin N. Griswold, U.S. Solicitor General.

Gohen Addresses Students. Undergraduate degrees were awarded to 736 seniors, who heard Dr. Gohen speak of the student reform movement that gained the spotlight on the campus this year. He compared the present student activism to a time 75 years ago when undergraduates demanded an end to proctoring of examinations and the establishment of an honor system.

Dr. Gohen exhorted the graduates to reject cataclysmic approaches and address themselves to the solution of problems in a clear-sighted and intelligent fashion. "To reduce a house to rubble because the roof is leaking may be exhilarating sport and a rich diet for the ego, but it is better to repair the roof," he said.

Princeton area graduates included Werner E. Endrikat, 80 Spruce Street; Steven Feldman, 263 Jefferson Road, Rich- and C. Ford, 16 Crooked Tree Lane; Dennis W. Frodsham, 44 Park Place; Randolph W. Hubler, 295 Mercer Road; James R. Kerney, 65 Palmer Square; John S. Mason, 10 Howe Circle; and Peter H. Raymond, Cherry Valley Road.

Also Richard L. Reynolds, 123 McCosh Circle; Leinard F. Swec, 91 Bertrand Drive; Peter M. Bach, Fackler Road; Bloxom E. Baker, 142 Mercer Street; George T. Cates Jr., 246 Nassau Street; Douglas D. Dimars, 11 East Franklin Avenue; Pennington and Frederick L. Ferris III, 50 East Wellington Avenue, Pennington. On hand as a spectator at commencement and the date of University senior Edward Cox, 148 East End Avenue, New York, at the Senior Prom Monday night was Patricia Nixon, older daughter of presidential aspirant Richard Nixon.

The commencement exercises climaxed an eventful week for the University, which began last Thursday with several thousand alumni returning for reunions. The assassination of Sen. Robert Kennedy curtailed many of the traditional highlights of the weekend, however.

FIRE AT PRINCETON INN
Origin Under Investigation.
Insurance underwriters, Mercer County Fire Marshall John Dempster and Borough Detective Charles Harris are investigating the suspicious origin of a fire that caused extensive damage to a fourth-floor attic storage room at the Princeton Inn early Thursday morning. All companies and two police patrol cars responded to the general alarm sounded at 1:31 a.m. The entire fourth floor of the Inn was evacuated, but Fire Chief Robert Davison was able to report that no one was injured. Firemen spent two and one-half hours at the scene.

The fire reportedly occurred behind a locked door. Chief Davison said that the door had been jammed shut and there were signs that it had been tampered with. He added that Marshall Dempster was in process of making a report on the fire. "It is still under investigation," he said. The fire was confined to a 40-foot long storage room containing furniture. Inn manager Samuel E. Stewart said that the loss would depend on the amount of structural damage to the rafters which support the roof.

"They haven't been tested yet," he said. Prefacing his next comment with "Your guess is as good as mine," he gave a rough estimate of $10,000 in damages.

Patrol cars manned by Sgt. Robert Anderson, Ptl. Thomas Michael, Ptl. Douglas Watson and Ptl. James Bloor were the first to arrive on the scene.

Kitchen Fire. A short circuit in an electric fan was blamed as a possible cause for a fire Saturday afternoon in the kitchen of the home of Mrs. Richard Edwards, 25 Green Street.

All companies responded to the 3:33 p.m. fire which was confined to the kitchen. Flames ruined a refrigerator, and the walls and ceiling of the kitchen were damaged by smoke and heat.

YOUTHS IN FIGHT
At Trinity Church. Two 20-year-old Princeton youths and a 17-year-old juvenile were arrested late Friday night by Borough police following a disturbance between Princeton and Trenton residents at Trinity Church.

All of the youths involved were Negroes. "There were no racial overtones to this," remarked Borough Chief Peter J. McCrohan.

It Says Here . . .
We don't need
Wet
(Yet)

June hasn't produced the heavy precipitation that marked the end of May, but the wind has been blowing out of the east a good deal and the overall effect is one of considerable dampness.

The cooler air has already given way to higher humidity, which inevitably will be followed by higher temperatures. They can easily be followed by showers, Friday or Saturday, the Man reports. It's a familiar tune for June.

Arrested and charged with atrocious assault and battery were Jerome McGowan, 4 Greenwood Avenue, and Frank Woolford of Alexander Street. In criminal court Monday, both waived a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Theodore T. Tamm Jr. They were released in their own recognizance to await action by a Grand Jury.

The Rev. Donald O'Dell of Trenton signed the assault complaint against McGowan. Fred Carter of Trenton was the complainant against Woolford. Chief McCrohan reported that the 17-year-old was charged with juvenile delinquency.

Calls from the manager of the church and from neighbors in the area that there was a fight going on at "The Calcombs," headquarters of the teenage program sponsored by Trinity, brought four patrol cars and eight officers speeding to the scene. A fight was in progress when police arrived, Chief McCrohan acknowledged, but it quickly died down. The Rev. Mr. O'Dell was allegedly pushed around during the scuffling. Police also report that all the furniture in a reading room adjoining the Calcombs was broken.

No one was injured to the extent of requiring hospital aid.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is to be regretted that the term, "vindictive," was applied to the petition to the Princeton Township Committee for an ordinance requiring owners of dogs to be their masters.

Although one can readily understand a person's urge to gain revenge upon a dog that has bitten him, frozen him in his tracks, nipped his heels, chased him while he was cycling, trampled his plantings or fertilized his lawn, the labeling of motives does not contribute to the discussion of the issues. After all, how would one describe the motives of those who let their pets do all these things—vicarious aggression?

The cost of enforcement, the value of another ordinance when one already exists, the ways of improving enforcement of the present ordinance, and the meaning of the proposed ordinance are all issues that require consideration in due time. But not motives in the sense implied by the term, "vindictive."

Report Dog Violations.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The P.T.O.-P.T.A. Council, sponsors of the current proposal to the Township Committee calling for a dog leash law, urges the residents of Princeton Township to report to the police or dog officer all violations of the present dog ordinance. In particular, we refer the residents to Article 3:

"No person who owns, keeps or harbors any dog shall suffer or permit such dog to bark, howl or cry habitually in such manner as to constitute a nuisance, or to bite or molest any person, or to chase any vehicle upon a public street, or to injure or damage any lawn or shrubbery or flowers, or grounds or any property of any person other than his master, or to behave in any way so as to endanger person or property."

A letter has been written to Mr. Nini, Township Administrator, requesting him to have the Police Department record these violations. This is an effort to assist the Police Department.

The Price for a Dog: $30.

The Editor of Town Topics: The so-called dog controversy in the Township has developed emotional feelings on both sides. Emotionalism should not be allowed to decide a question which involves people's rights; in all honesty, a dog has no rights. The question is easy to put in perspective.

Dogs are a joy to their owners; they are playmates for children; they can be protection to a home, and to their owner they can do no wrong. On the other hand they do carry bones onto other people's lawns thereby interfering with safe and easy mowing; they like to pick up newspapers from the door-step and shred them (sometimes on the master's lawn but more often on that of a neighbor); they bark at cars and delivery men or garbage collectors who become reluctant to do their job; at night or when tied up, they yap interminably and their owners never seem conscious of the noise. Unfortunately dogs cannot read so they stray to school yards and use lawns barking dog at 2 a.m. is annoying.

It is nice to have the fun of owning a dog but with that enjoyment goes the responsibility of training a dog so as not to annoy others. Thoughtfulness and consideration are the key words. It would seem that coming or leashing dogs would not necessarily correct the situation — after all, the sound of barking of a leashed dog carries far beyond an owner's property.

The willingness to train and supervise a dog and to understand that he might bother others should be the criteria for ownership. But even in this enlightened community to assume that people will be considerate without some sort of club seems remote.

If people want to have dogs, all right, let them pay for the and gardens indiscriminately as a bathroom.

The conclusion is easy: to an owner and his family, a dog is a joy and a boon companion; to non-dog-owners, they can be a nuisance. After all a permit dog would not be unreasonable.

Legion Supported.

To the Editor of Town Topics: It is my hope that the American Legion will continue to sponsor future Memorial Day Parades in memory of those who have laid down their lives on the battlefield for this country which we love. Other groups that wish to memorialize those who have died otherwise should seek their own permits and hold their own parades.

"A Lovely Surprise."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I can't tell you what a lovely surprise it was to be chosen as your "Woman of the Week." The Ninth Annual Northeast Regional Ballet Festival was a truly exciting educational dance event, and I am so grateful to the community for opening their homes and their hearts to these wonderful young people.

As Director of the Princeton Ballet Society I am most grateful for the honor and wish to share it with the many "Women of the Year" who have worked so diligently on this, and the many friends who

To Us

MORE THAN SWEATERS
 At Sweater Shack. Ruffled shirts, for sitting demurely in the shade of an air-conditioner, or bathing suits for swinging in the sun. And plenty in between. Of course, but that gives you an idea of the range of things at the Sweater Shack, a store with prices only a bare bikini over the wholesale.

Sweater Shack has moved, by the way. You'll now find two stores: one on Route 31 outside Flemington (don't make the turn into the business section, if you're driving from Princeton. Just keep on 31. You'll see Sweater Shack on the left side of the highway.) The second is in New Hope, at 36 Mechanic Street.

Before we go any further, we ought to tell you that the New Hope Sweater Shack is for your teenage daughter. It's full of the mod and the wild and the far far out. There are also, however, those wonderful Italian knits you like so much for yourself.

At the Flemington store, are the wonderful classics and the fresh new fashions like all those ruffles, and sports clothes for men. Well, let's just take a look . . .

Ruffles come on a pale maize-yellow dacron-cotton voice-top, in the form of a jabot and ruffled cuff. The skirt is chocolate brown, joined to the top by a wide brown leather belt. You'll get a similar effect with the sleeveless peach top and its dark grey skirt, and the white top with lace-edged ruffles over a dark navy skirt.

Whipped-cream dacron, right off a shortcake, makes a shirt dress with short sleeves and a couple of low knife pleats that look, at first, like culottes. This dress comes in blocks of bright blue or yellow, with white.

If you wear size 18, you'll welcome the coolness of a two piece in aqua-white stripes. The top hangs free, for the breezes, and has a loosely tied sailor bow and short sleeves.

For sizes 22½, Sweater Shack has a one-piece arnel

Is Your Swimmer Small?

Danskin fan-skis will be delighted to learn that Danskin now makes bathing suits.

Allen's has these sleekies in sizes 3-10 for all the girls in your family who want to show off their figures on the divingboard. Danskin makes the suits in one piece and three colors. The style is classic tank. The colors are navy with narrow red-white trim; French blue with yellow-white and lime with navy-white.

Jersey in black-white stripes with wide, cool neckline and sheering black belt.

Now for size 8, here's a print short-sleeved charmingly printed with little posies. And how about a $6.99 antron shift or a $9.95 orion knit? Those orion knits are machine-washable, done in hot lime, hot pink, hot yellow, without sleeves—but with a turtle-neck.

Bathing suits at Sweater Shack's Flemington store are $7.95 and $9.95. Wet from the drink, you can slide into a brief suit made of fine terry. It has a boy leg, brief sleeves, a low belt and a zipper that carries right up through the turtle collar. Bright red, bright turquoise.

White short skirts and white culottes, come in classic sailcloth. (Sweater Shack likes to buy up the big manufacturers when they close out their summer lines. Like right now.)

Daddy will slip into a cotton knit pullover in a nubby and natural "linen." Looks tweedy, feels cool.

Dressed up, he'll wear a white "silk" turtle-neck with long sleeves. For real relaxation on a really hot day, he'll reach for the open fish-knit pullover. $3.95.

Sweater Shack always has a 30%-off rack. Browning can be fun!

HOW BIG IS YOUR TAN?

Size 3. Girls are wearing ensembles to the beach this summer. Two-piece suits with terribly fashionable tops made like ponchos, jackets or pin-nies.

dressings room, right by the pool. Cinderella's ensemble has a "sea-shell" on top, a kind of mini-dress in three styles. One, hot lime with white daisies, has a draw-string neck and puffed sleeves. A second, also hot lime, has white dots and a ruffled hem. A third, cool navy with pin tucks, has bright print muslin rooms around the border. And two-piece bathing suits match every one.

From other manufacturers, Allen's has things like a bright, striped poncho lined with terry and fringed with white, and a terry print shirt. Tennis players will serve in a dacron-cotton with draw-string waist, or a pique polo shirt, both white with crossed rackets emblazoned on the bodice. (From $4 for little sizes, from $6 for bigger ones). A happy, bright-colored print on a navy dress is cheerful for summer, and so are the bright blue gingham checks on a short culotte.

Boys? Sure. Allen's has "40,000 styles" — boys are particular about what they want! Trunks have short legs or long, liminary stripes or Madras plaids. For the littiest, Allen's has shortalls in washable, stay-press fabrics. "Corn-cobbers" are a good tough khaki denim with big, slanting pocket zippers. Another short-all is awing stripes of red-white-blue.

Campers or sailors will swagger home in a nylon shell, unlined, in colors like lemon, apricot, pale blue. White Stag makes these for girls, McGregor for boys.

Lined ones have hoods and are great for camp. Orange dots brighten one navy shell and orange-blue-white stripes make another one visible all the way across the lake.

Stay-press camp shorts are the camper's best friend (mother's, too). Jean shorts, of course, come in lots of colors these days, not just plain old jean blue. There's olive and gold and a lighter blue, too.

Terry jacks to wear after the swim, are orange, lemon or vanilla, and boys who play tennis will wear either short or long white shorts by McGregor.

Danskin hasn't forgotten its old friends, just because it has splashed out into the pool this summer (see box). Bright Danskin pastels have been woven into short sleeved or sleeveless tops and matching shorts and slacks.

according to Chief McCrohan. Police declined to describe the "dangerous weapon" that was allegedly wielded by the two who were arrested.

The Rev. James Wittermore, rector of Trinity, estimated damages at $200. He reported that a group of parents and Princeton boys who were involved in the incident Friday night, met with him on Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Wittermore said that the youths were "distressed that such a thing happened in a church" and they wanted to make some kind of financial restitution for the damages. The church has insurance, he said.

According to the Rev. Mr. Wittermore, the church will close The Catacombs, pending re-evaluation of the program.

Chief McCrohan reported he had full knowledge of what happened Friday night but because it is a Grand Jury case, he was only permitted to give the names of those involved and the charges.

What happened was that the Rev. Mr. O'Dell, in charge of the group of Trenton youths, was concluding a meeting with staff members of Youth Associates, Princeton-based youth organization. About 10:45 a group of Princeton youths entered the room at Trinity and a fight ensued.

TO FACE GRAND JURY
The Larceny, Vandalism. A 25-year-old Borough resident was released in $500 bail Saturday to await action by a Grand Jury after he had been charged the previous day with breaking and entering and larceny, in counts of possession of stolen property and malicious damage to property.

Robert O. Smith, 15 Olden Street, was arrested by Borough police on Friday. At the time, he was placed in jail and charged with stolen property.

From information they received and from the testimony of witnesses, Chief Peter J. McCrohan reported that Smyth allegedly maliciously damaged a number of parked cars in an area near his home and stole a basketball, yearbook and a half bottle of whiskey from a car parked at the rear of Dial Lodge and owned by Larry Tuttle, Princeton University senior. Later, Sgt. Robert Anderson and Ptl. Thomas Michaud located Smyth's car in the rear of 246 Nassau Street with the top down. In plain view, they said, were the missing basketball and a large number of other items Smyth had allegedly stolen.

Police had the car towed to Borough headquarters. They were armed with a search warrant, Chief McCrohan said.

Among the cars reported damaged were three at the Matheson Sunco Station, 172 Nassau Street, windows broken; two 1963 Dodge cars parked at the rear of Turney Motors, all their windows broken; six cars in the Engineering Quadrangle lot, two of which had all their windows smashed while the other had wipers, and radio antennas broken; and a rear window broken in a car parked in the Institute for Defense Analyses lot off Prospect Avenue. Chief McCrohan said that the vandalism took place late Thursday night and early Friday morning.

WHO COMES, ANYWAY?

To Public Meetings. "Is it up to public officials to beat the bushes if the public is apathetic?"

Councilman William H. Walker asked the question Tuesday night because only one person—and a Township resident at that—showed up for two Borough Council public ordinance hearings.

The first ordinance, providing $300 yearly pay for Councilmen, was defeated 5-1. Councilman Robert Hendry, who proposed it in the first place, cast the only "aye."

The Township resident, Henry J. Frank of 126 Valley Road, favored the ordinance.

Mr. Frank did not, however, favor the second ordinance. No High School Parking. This was the re-introduced traffic ordinance that includes a prohibition of parking around Princeton High School. Mr. Frank wanted the public hearing in the fall rather than the scheduled July 9 date because more people, including high school students, would be in town.

operate on a nine-or-ten-month basis," retorted Mayor Henry S. Patterson. He pointed out that the ordinance isn't really new anyway, and was publicly heard some months ago. The resolution is to satisfy state highway officials who want a re-examination of the Chambers-Avalon intersection.

"I've seen ordinances changed because of what people say in public hearings," observed Councilman Charles Cornforth. The Borough's tax collector, Mr. Charles St. John, suggested that people didn't come because they have confidence in their elected officials.

Council introduced an ordinance car marking $25,000 for 300 new meters, replacing antiques bought in 1963. Mr. Cornforth referred to the expenditure as "pay-as-you-go" and said the money had been set aside long ago.

Bough Hall's address will be changed from 31 Clifton to Monument Drive. . . . The Historical Society will be asked to suggest a name for the new little park on Nassau and Mercer Street Extension. . . . The American Legion has encountered excavation difficulties at the war memorial and needs $1,500 more.

NO FUNDS FOR BRIDGE

Says Goldberg, David Goldberg, state transportation commissioner, has told the Township Planning Board he has no money left to build a new Kingston bridge, and may not even have any in the next budget.

He agrees with the planning board that the new bridge is urgently needed and says the state will go ahead as soon as possible. He hopes voters will pass a bond issue this fall, giving his department more money.

"The next chapter in the Kingston Bridge story may be written in the next session of the legislature," observed Hans K. Sander, board chairman, as he read Mr. Goldberg's letter to the board on Monday night.

CAR IS DAMAGED

By Vandals. A car parked in the Princeton Youth Center lot was badly damaged by vandals late Friday night.

Police received a call from a Green Street resident at 11:23 reporting that a group of boys was breaking up a car. Ptl. James Bloor and Ptl. Thomas Michael, later joined by patrolmen Arthur Jackson and David Alston, investigated.

They discovered that the car's windshield had been shattered, its hood bent and its wipers and radio antenna broken off. The contents of garbage cans had been tossed inside the car.

Police identified the owner as Donna Kneiblauch of Trenton. The car had been reported by Trenton police as having been stolen earlier the same evening.

Car Theft. Mrs. Carol Peters of Titusville reported early last week the theft of a $75 portable record player from the rear seat of her Volkswagen parked on Edwards Place. Police said the car was not locked.

David Smith of Scarsdale, N. Y., reported the theft Sunday of two suitcases from his car parked on Witherspoon Street. He did not estimate their value, police said.

CHILD MOLESTED

Near Carnegie Lake. A 7-year-old township girl was molested Saturday evening between 6 and 7 near Carnegie Lake.

Detective Norman Servis, who investigated the incident, reported the girl was not injured. He said that a composite picture of the suspect is being drawn by the police department.

Detective Servis urged that

Correction

Anyone who wants to join the bus caravan from Princeton to Washington on Wednesday, June 19, must sign in with Mrs. John Hie, 921-2000 no later than this Sunday night.

The fare is $5, but there is no charge for Princetonians who cannot afford the fare.

The "Poor People's March" table will be at Palmer Square through next Tuesday for registration for the Washington trip and for contributions.

He advised children that if they ever are approached by a stranger, they should go home, tell their parents immediately and have them call the police.

plate glass window.
The only item taken was a $100 portable TV set, according to Sidney Schellitzky of Roosevelt, one of the owners who reported the theft. Police said the window had just been checked at 1 Sunday morning and found to be intact.

Mrs. Alexander Nikolisky, 234 Western Way, called Borough police at 12:30 Sunday morning to report that her home had been entered.

Police say that a large jewelry box had been emptied on a bed and the contents of the bureau dumped. Nothing else in the house was disturbed and apparently, nothing was taken, they said.
Entry was through an open rear door leading into a playroom. Sgt. Robert Anderson investigated.

School Entered. Township police hit the entry of Community Park School between midnight and 7 a.m. Friday morning.

Malevolent mischief rather than theft seemed to be the object, as tables and chairs were upset, a large art display board knocked down and a glass sliding door broken.

Police said entry was through an unlocked door. The school custodian called the police.

TOWNSHIP FINES THREE.
For Letting Dogs Run Loose. Township Magistrate Glen B. Miller Jr. fined three Township residents $10 each last week for allowing their dogs to run loose on school property.

Maurice B. Lowenthal, 270 Riverside Drive, and John Murphy, 161 Hickory Court, pleaded guilty to letting their dogs run loose at Riverside School, while B. DeCoeaux, 27 Terhune Road, acknowledged his dog had run at large on Valley Road School property.

Reynold Steinhoff, 71 Deer Path, pleaded guilty to two charges involving his dog: (1) that his dog jumped on, and molested, Mrs. Herschel Allen of 14 Deer Path while she was walking in the roadway of Deer Path and (2) that he per-

4,000 VIEW KENNEDY TRAIN AT JUNCTION

A crowd of about 4,000 people, who looked as if they might have been waiting for a campaign train, instead of a funeral train, lined both sides of the tracks at Princeton Junction Saturday afternoon to catch a glimpse of the flag-draped casket of Senator Robert F. Kennedy.

Many came dressed in gay summer clothing, armed with transistor radios, still and movie cameras. Others wore black; with members of the Princeton Kennedy organization attired in dark suits and ties.

Sandwiches, soda pop and collapsible deck chairs were in evidence; so were a few Kennedy pictures — one large one trimmed in black. A single red rose was held by an elderly woman and a bouquet of flowers was cradled by a small child.

The first to arrive came around 11:30, and by 1:30 the crowd stretched from the far southern end of the platform down along the tracks under the overpass of the Princeton Hightstown Road.

The hot sun and mounding delay in arrival of the train combined to test patience and endurance. Children and adults stood on the tracks peering intently toward New York, moving off in response to orders by West Windsor Police Chief Francis Maguire, and getting back when he moved away.

"They must be taking it awfully slowly," a man said at one point, "because they left Penn Station at 1 o'clock and normally a trip down here takes 40 minutes. Which is good," he emphasized. "Yes, it's appropriate," a woman agreed.

At 2:55, approximately two hours later, the headlight of the Kennedy train became visible far down the tracks. Slowing at about 15-20 miles an hour it took another ten minutes to reach the station, while spectators jockeyed for position. The 21-car train rumbled slowly by; cameras clicked and people stared.

Within three minutes it was gone. The huge crowd broke for the parking lots in a hurry — and created the most monumental traffic jam in the history of Princeton Junction.

mitted his dog to run loose, unmuzzled after being given a notice to muzzle it after it had bitten a child.

Magistrate Miller announced that he would sentence Mr. Steinhoff to jail unless he made arrangements to have his dog housed permanently outside the Township within the next four weeks. Until such arrangement is made he ruled the dog is not to be allowed off the Steinhoff property unless it is both muzzled and on a leash. He adjourned sentencing until the end of the four week period.

In traffic court, Magistrate Miller fined three drivers $20 each. They are Lawrence E. Benson 34, 19 Province Line Road, Skillman, failure to yield at a stop sign; Robert O. Smyth, 25, 15 Olden Street, careless driving; and Herbert F. Perks, 23, 516 Mount Lucas Road, improper passing. Mr. Perks pleaded not guilty. Mrs. John B. Hughes, 42, 7 Hawthorne Avenue, paid $10 for failing to yield the right of way at an intersection.

A student at Rider College, Ivan C. Kronmeyer, 19, was fined $25 for throwing eggs out of his car which allegedly struck other cars on Lake Road. In addition, the right to drive in New Jersey was suspended for 30 days for the Meritown, Pa. resident.

A stop sign violation cost William M. Hassebrock, 22, of Princeton University, $10. He pleaded not guilty.

Borough Court. In Borough Court Monday, Magistrate Theodore T. Tans Jr. fined four Princeton area drivers $15 each for careless driving. They are Eric K. Ketel, 18, 131 Brookstone Drive; Cornelius E. Cavanaugh, 38, Berrien Avenue, Princeton Junction; Mrs. Frederica H. Oldach, 56, Carter Road; and Mrs. Myrtle

TUESDAY OPENING DAY

For New Thriftway Market. The sixth and by far the most eye-catching Thriftway Supermarket in this area will have its Grand Opening Tuesday morning at 10.

The Colonial-designed store, complete with cupola and shingled roof, is located in the Montgomery Shopping Center near the intersection of Routes 206 and 518. It is inside, however, that the store is most dramatic.

The floor is covered with wall-to-wall carpeting, providing an immediate air of luxury and comfort. Miss Althea Leonard, the advertising director, reported that the carpet was first tested with loaded shopping carts to insure that they could be pushed easily over the carpeting.

Despite the display of more than 15,000 grocery items, the aisles are wide and there is a sense of spaciousness. There are eight modern checkout lanes including an express lane.

as one eats there is a large delicatessen-applender department. The food will be prepared right in the store in a kitchen in the rear.

Mrs. Sarah Terry, store manager, said that "you can prepare a complete meal for one to you name it; the more the merrier."

She added that the store would package all such items in takeout containers. For large parties, she said, the store would prefer to be called a few hours in advance.

There is also an in-store delicatessen, all baking is done in the store's own kitchen.

Specialize in Meats. The new store will specialize in offering the finest selection of meats possible. Mrs. Terry continued. It will be the finest quality, all choice cuts.

All this at fair and competitive prices, Mrs. Terry reported. "A price study has been our main project over the years — which is one reason why we've been able to grow."

"Nothing," she continued, "has been spared to make this store a pleasant place for the housewife and husband to shop. We've spent months just on the decor alone."

Other inducements include a "farn fresh" produce section, a huge frozen food freezer that seems to be filled with more items than Pandora's Box, and ample parking.

James Stine will be the grocery manager. (For further details, see page 15)

WHAT ABOUT ZONING? Proposals Discussed Again. The Borough's proposed zoning ordinance is like "the blind man and the elephant": everybody sees it from his own point of vantage.

The proposals were publicly discussed a second and last time last Wednesday before the Borough Planning Board. A final board report probably will go to mayor and council sometime in July, and it will be September at least before a zoning ordinance will come before mayor and council, according to Thomas Cawley, board secretary.

NEW THRIFTWAY STORE MANAGERS: Mrs. Sarah Terry will be store manager and James Stine will be grocery manager of the new Thriftway Market opening Tuesday in the Montgomery Shopping Center, Route 206. Before coming to Princeton, Mrs. Terry and her husband owned and managed their own food stores in Phoenix, Ariz. Mr. Stine has had years of experience in food managing and has been associated with several food chains. (Staff Photo)

Here's the way it went Wednesday.

Recalder Ridgely Cook of Edmand D. Cook and Co. asked permission for properties over 5,000 square feet to be built on their existing block. He said that many old structures have reached the limit of economic remodeling and warned of a proliferation of driveways if the firms have to meet parking requirements. He asked for six-story buildings on Nassau, and stated that 60% of the Borough's tax revenue comes from its business zones (Tax Institute figures). He thanked the Planning Board for increasing the allowed height of parking garages to three stories.

John Moran for Princeton University wants residential areas like Broadmead and the strip between University Place and Alexander Street classified "Educational," pointing out that all of Broadmead's faculty homes and 90% of the University-Alexander strip are University-owned, anyway.

He said the University might decide to "increase the utilization of these properties" with additional faculty or student housing. He also asked clarification of the wording in the proposed ordinance so that the University could change the usage of buildings like dining halls, without variances.

Charles Cornforth, private citizen 71 Westcott Road, protested the extension of educational zones. "The University is just going to have to leap across Lake Carnegie sometime," he declared. "There must be no more 'take-over' of residential areas by educational zones."

(Board member Charles R. Erdman pointed out that the University's faculty homes will be off the Borough's tax rolls if the Borough tears them down and builds classrooms or dormitories.)

Edward Froese for Princeton Plaza, Inc., the proposed office building at 510 Nassau, said, "We've been sold down," he said, by the 6 floor-area-ratio requirement, which means cutting the use of Plaza's property almost in half. His plan, which signed to a 1.5 f.a.r., he said and he suggested that each Princeton parking space is worth $2,500. He said his firm could live with a f.a.r. of 3.

Realtor Lawrence Norris Kerr emphasized her stand for more apartments, especially in the R3 and R4 zones, and urged that conversions of homes into apartments be allowed as a "right" not "conditionally." She said that one third of the Borough's apartments are "illegal"—that is, converted in violation of the zoning law.

Theodore Vial for Princeton Community Housing, Inc., asked six-story structures at selected sites, and said mid-income housing was almost impossible economically with a four-story limit.

The League of Women Voters urged six stories in the new R02 zone to provide for low-income housing.

Inc. said the board hadn't answered his economically feasibility memo, and objected to the "downgrading of the central business district from a floor-area-ratio of 3.04 and four stories to 6 and four stories. He said the new R02 office-apartment zone facing Wiggins should be returned to the central-business zone. He also told the board that P.S.I. hasn't benefited from the land it picked up in the closing off of John Street and warned of a possible tax appeal.

AGENCY EXPANDS

Alter Merger. Lenhart and Hartsuff, Inc., 44 Nassau Street, is expanding its service coverage to add local and national firms to its list of clients.

Formed recently by the merger of Lenhart and Company, a proprietorship, the corporation is headed by R. L. Lenhart, president, and Peter C. Hartsuff, executive vice-president. The new agency will work in all media, including television, radio, newspapers, magazines and direct mail.

Mr. Hartsuff joined the agency last November to head new business development, moving from New York, where he was advertising manager for the Magnavox Company. A graduate of the University of Colorado, he has been with the American Forces Network in Europe, the Kudner Agency in New York and the J. Walter Thompson Company.

LAND SALES ARE SLOW

During Thompson Auction. Big money may have been present at the land auction conducted by W. Bryce Thompson IV of Thompson EXPANSION — BUT NOT QUITE WORLD-WIDE: Lenhart and Hartsuff, Inc., a new corporation operating as a full-service ad agency, is the successor to Lenhart & Co. It is directed by R. L. Lenhart (left), president, and Peter C. Hartsuff, executive vice-president, with offices at 44 Nassau.

Realty last Thursday, but it wasn't talking — at least not during the auction.

A little more than 100 people, some interested in buying and others who just came to watch, sat in the Prince William Room of the Nassau Inn, listening to Mr. Thompson put more than 70 parcels of land in all sizes up for bids. Forty-seven of them were owned wholly or in part by Princeton Research Lands, of which Mr. Thompson is president and majority stockholder.

Throughout the six-hour sale, the upset price or minimum bid acceptable was not met once, although bids of 50% of the upset price were frequent, and at least one bid of 75% was made. Mr. Thompson had said before the sale began that bids of 75% would be taken and given consideration after the auction.

However, while no sales were made during the auction itself, Mr. Thompson commented at once point during the proceedings that he had already sold two or three parcels before the auction began and expected sales on others in the days following the auction. One of these parcels sold was a 98.54-acre tract including a house and barn on Cold Sell Road, which

In other cases, Armstead Robinson, 57, 131 John Street, paid $18 for speeding; Phyllis Spring, 40, Magic Apartments, paid $12, stop sign; and Mark Swaab, 41, 16 Charlton Street, paid $10, failure to sign his driver's license.

In criminal court, Mrs. Anne Sabol, 14½ Vandeventer Avenue, was fined $25 and placed on one year's probation for assault and battery. She was charged with throwing a rock at the complainant, Michael Jatis, 47 Spring Street.

Sanora Mendosa, 45, 11 Leigh Avenue, was sentenced to 30 days in the Mercer County Workhouse for being drunk and disorderly on Witherspoon Street. A similar charge — drunk and disorderly — against Jewart Napper, 79, of 20 Lytle Street, was dismissed.

SQUIBB MOVES CLOSER
Wins Second Court Test.
Princeton Township and the North Lawrence Citizens Association are down their last out in their battle to prevent E. R. Squibb & Sons from building a large research-administrative complex on a 213-acre site on Route 206 and Providence Line Road.

The second phase of their suit, challenging the amendment allowing Squibb to move into Lawrence was decided in favor of the company by Superior Court Judge George H. Barlow. Only one more section of the suit remains.

In October, Judge Barlow divided the suit into three phases: conflict of interest, procedural questions and validity of the amendment. Tackling the first phase in January, he ruled against the plaintiffs, arguing that conflict of interest committees had prejudiced their votes on the amendment. Last Friday, he threw out the contention that township officials had followed improper procedure prior to adopting the amendment. He did agree that the state's right-to-know law, which permits the public to attend any meeting of a public body at which official action is taken, may have been violated.

The plaintiffs charged that the statute was violated at four planning board meetings last summer, thus voiding any action taken at those sessions. However, Judge Barlow ruled that this did not overturn the ordinance, since the legislation was later sent back to the board by the township committee and was "exposed to public scrutiny and debate."

Arguments by the plaintiffs that the zoning board and not the planning board had jurisdiction to hear or issue special exemptions and that portions of the amendment are "vague, ambiguous and inconsistent" were also overruled.

Now, the validity of the amendment, itself, which permits profit-making concerns to build in the Township's Rural A district, after obtaining a special exemption permit, will be tested. Hearings on this final phase are expected to begin in the near future.

Why we don't call the Volkswagen on the left the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

Just because the Volkswagen on the left looks like a station wagon, some people have concluded it actually is the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

How rash.

Its storage capacity is much too modest. (Even with its seats folded down it's just 42 cu. ft.)

Its seating capacity is much too conventional. (4 passengers is nothing to write home about.)

And the size of that door in the back is much too commonplace. (A mere 42 7/8" by 25 1/4".)

But unassuming as these features are in a station wagon, they're very startling in a sedan. And that's exactly what this squared-off car on the left is. A regular sedan for people who irregularly need a little station wagon.

We call it the Volkswagen Squareback.

Now look at the monster on the right. Its loading capacity is an incredible 176 cu. ft. It can seat up to nine—yes, nine—very tall passengers. And it doesn't content itself with just having a door in the back. It also has a kind of sliding side gate that measures an awesome 3 1/2' by 4'.

Now that's what we call a station wagon. Settled?

FORECASTING THE FUTURE: Carroll Spencer (left) and Andrew Cernicle are among those taking a look at the Presidential campaigns following Sen. Robert Kennedy's assassination.

(Staff Photo)

Question Of The Week

Question: What effect do you think Senator Robert Kennedy's tragic death will have on the 1968 presidential campaign?

Where asked: Princeton Shopping Center

Carroll Spencer, Jamesburg, Acme Market employee: It's hard to say. I've got the feeling in this whole thing, though, that Ted Kennedy will drop in. Now would be the time for him to start campaigning. I think a lot will vote for him out of sympathy and, another thing, he has the same ideas as his brother. I think it was a tragic thing.

Andrew Cernicle, Trenton, Acme Market employee: I think everybody will swing over to McCarthy—all the Kennedy voters. Kennedy and McCarthy both wanted peace, while Humphrey is going along with Johnson's policies. I think there will be a big swing to McCarthy.

Mrs. Katharine Guroff, 418-C Devereux Avenue, housewife: I think it might bring his brother into the campaign, probably as vice-president on the Humphrey ticket to help bring over delegates. I wish it would help the McCarthy campaign but I don't think it will. I heard they expect Kennedy's delegates to go to Humphrey instead of McCarthy, although I think McCarthy and Kennedy were much more alike.

Harry Hamilton, Philadelphia, mechanic for Acme: I think the swing will be to Humphrey. I think he's got it, definitely. I think Kennedy was the only roadblock Humphrey had; now it's more or less one-sided.

Mrs. J. T. Morey, 210 Mountain Avenue, teacher: I think more Democrats will vote for the more liberal of the two candidates rather than Humphrey, in tribute to Kennedy.

Miss Claudia DuPraz, 78 Hamilton Street, PHS senior: It's going to give McCarthy a clear way for the Democratic party. I think it will give Nixon a good chance, too, because I felt Kennedy was Nixon's opponent. I don't think Humphrey is that popular. His whole public image does not go over as well as that of McCarthy. I think a lot of the younger people between 21-25 support McCarthy.

Mrs. Helen Wilson, Plainsboro, nightclub operator: It will certainly help the Republicans. I'm a Republican and I think Kennedy had far more popular appeal than any of our Republican candidates. I think he might very well have won the presidential election had he been nominated. Now, that's impossible.

Miss Barbara Janney, 25 Monroe Road, PHS senior: I think it really messes it up. I think anyone who comes out in favor of a strong gun law and against violence will have a better chance. I think Governor Reagan made some good statements on television about permissiveness among teenagers and at our colleges. He said we should go back to the way it was and have things run by the colleges, not the students.

Robert Blazer, Ewing Township, sales manager for Princeton Fuel Oil: It's given Humphrey the nomination. Why? That seems to be what is going to take place. I think the majority of those who were for Kennedy will go over to Humphrey.

W. Malcolm Clark, 208 Dana Street, teacher: I suppose Humphrey will benefit the most. It appears he's going to get many more of the Kennedy delegates than will McCarthy... something I'm not particularly happy about.

Mrs. Carme H. Alvarez, 228-A Marshall Street, graduate student, Romance Languages: It will hand Humphrey the nomination on a silver platter. I think it was still possible that Kennedy might have made it; now it's sure Humphrey will. That won't prove the majority wants him but that's how the political system in this country works. It's kind of tricky. Also, I feel there is a sense of hopelessness in the people, especially among the young. They feel there is no future for them. I think with this system it's very difficult to get away.

David E. Rounds, New Hope, Pa., employee, Chemistry Department, Princeton University: There will be one less candidate. I feel McCarthy will benefit the most because he'll get the votes Kennedy would have gotten.

Peter Hegener, 228 Alexander Street, president, Peterson's Guides: I'd like to see McCarthy benefit but I'm afraid Humphrey will get the nomination now, simply because the Democratic party needs a winner. I believe this talk about Humphrey having tied up all the delegates means he'll win the nomination. However, I think if McCarthy were able to convince the convention to nominate Ted Kennedy as a running mate this would throw a bombshell in the race. It depends entirely on what Ted Kennedy wants to do. Together, they could stop Humphrey.

"Information" is dead.

Long live "Directory Assistance"

We called this telephone service the wrong name. So, many people called for the wrong reasons.

Information Operators spent most of their time looking up numbers in local directories. They've also been called for train schedules, baseball scores and whatnot.

So, we've changed the name of this service. It's now Directory Assistance.

We think this new name is much better. After all, that's what the service is for. To assist you with numbers not in your directory: numbers outside your directory area and new numbers not yet listed.

How do you call Directory Assistance? The same way you call Information before it died.

But whenever you have to call Directory Assistance, it's always helpful to have a pencil and your personal phone list handy so you can jot down the number. Then, you won't lose time when you want to call the same person again.

If you'd like a handy booklet to keep your personal numbers in, or a directory for other areas you call often, just call your Telephone Business Office. We'll be glad to send them to you.

Directory Assistance: to help us serve you better.

ART In Princeton

CLASSES ORGANIZED
For Young Artists The Princeton Art Association has established a four-week session of summer art classes for young people. The workshops, scheduled for the PAA's air-conditioned studios at 14 Nassau Street, will run from July 8 to August 1.

Mrs. Jan Swearer will head a workshop in graphic arts, ceramics and painting on Monday and Wednesday mornings from 9 to 12. Boys and girls, ages 10-14, will be admitted, for instruction.

High school students will have a special workshop on Tuesday and Thursday mornings under a format new to the PAA summer program. Four different teachers will handle the workshop, each teacher responsible for a different week.

Mrs. Dagmar Tribble, incoming president of the art association and a member of the American Watercolor Society will give specialized instruction in watercolor painting. Mrs. Lore Lindfield will conduct classes in "weaving without a loom" during the second week.

The third week will be devoted to ceramics under the direction of Toshiko Takezumi, former head of the Ceramics Department at the Cleveland Institute of Art and current instructor at Princeton University. Mrs. Margaret K. Johnson will close out the course by covering "problems in color, shape, texture and line."

On Wednesday evenings, David Chapin will conduct classes in painting and drawing the human figure. Mr. Chapin is a New York artist whose classes in oil and acrylic painting have been a regular feature of the PAA class program.

"Life drawing, painting and sculpture" will be offered in a Thursday evening workshop running from 7 to 10. No in-

Corrections Offered.
To the Editor of Town Topics: I call your attention to seven errors in the short Memorial Day article and picture caption in the June 6th issue. Each of them may be called trivial, but they add up to a completely erroneous report of one aspect of the situation.

1. The parade was not picketed as the caption asserts. Those taking part in the parade were memorializing in their own way but not in antagonism to the parade. As it turned out, almost all the signs were either similar to or identical with parts of the official speeches.

2. The wreath was not a center of dispute, as you will see from what follows. Those taking part in the parade did not place a placard with King's portrait in front of the wreath. Two boys placed a placard below and in front, but not covering the wreath. It bore the legend "That Wars May Cease," but no portrait at all.

4. After the woman tore it down, further signs were not brought. The boys took to the monument one other sign bearing the same legend.

5. It was not leaped against the wreath but against the monument to one side and in back of the wreath.

6. In an altercation between the woman and the boys about the second sign, it dropped to the ground. The woman stepped on it. Another woman (my wife) then came forward and asked the first woman if she would please get off the sign. There was no heated argument or any argument. The second woman persisted only in repeated, firm requests and an attempt to explain why the thought the sign was an appropriate display.

7. Obviously the demonstration did disperse, as you said, but before, not after or during this episode.

ROGER MAREN
Stony Brook Road
Hopewell, N. J.

Editor's Note: Mr. Maren brings up two ever-interesting points: (1) semantics, with all the underlying nuances and connotations of words, and (2) the reliability of witnesses.

If the intent of Mr. Maren's organization was to persuade paraders and onlookers, if the intent was a protest against the American Legion policy of limiting the Memorial Day parade to the memory of the nation's war dead, then the word "picketing" was used in its correct sense.

The noun "picket" and the verb form "picketing" are originally military terms, denote "a guard," or "the act of guarding." During the years of the labor movement, a "picket" came to mean a person posted by a labor organization at an approach to a place of work affected by a strike to ascertain the workers' going and coming, and to persuade or otherwise influence them to quit working there; it has in more recent years come to connote a person posted similarly in a demonstration against a policy.

As to the witnesses, bystanders at the incident involving the wreath, these are reports received through the police and people gathered there. The margin of error has to be recognized on our part as a witness' report may be colored by his emotional response to what he has seen. Ask any judge.

CREWS IN IRA REGATTA
New Formula at Syracuse.
Three days of rowing, based on the Olympic formula of "repheages" (double eliminations), will mark the Interregatta on Lake Onondaga at Syracuse this weekend.

Princeton will be among 16 colleges competing over the 2,000-meter course, with the first race scheduled for Thursday afternoon having a second chance on Friday to win the finals and the eliminate races set for Saturday.
Pennsylvania is the defending champion and favorite, with a Quaker victory making the Red and Blue the first back-to-back victor in five years.

Princeton will row in the second heat Thursday afternoon, facing Boston University, UCLA, Brown and Northeastern. The latter was one of the crews which kept the Tigers from reaching the finals of the Eastern Sprint Championships at Worcester.

In the first Thursday heat,
Penn will compete against Columbia, Georgetown, Syracuse, Wisconsin and Stanford. The third heat involves Navy, Dartmouth, Washington, Cornell and Rutgers.
Last weekend on the Schuylkill River, Princeton chased the finish line in the American Henley Regatta. Over 2,000 meters, the Quakers were timed in 6:01.5, with the Orange and Black a half length behind in 6:03.6.

GOLFERS TO COMPETE
in NCAA Championships.
The first appearance in a number of years for a Princeton golf team in the national intercollegiate will be made next week at New Mexico State University. Play will begin Wednesday and continue till the team and individual champions.

Couch Dutch Schoch will enter a five-man team selected from the personnel which placed second in the Eastern intercollegiate and finished with a record of 11-3 for the season. Among those repre-

PERFECT GAME

Bruce Wortelman, a hurler for the Thornes Pharmacy squad pitched the first perfect game in the league's 12-year history last week, defeating Edinburg.

The Druggist collected eight hits, with an attack paced by Gary Fowler's three-run homer, to back up Wortelman's performance. Second baseman Terry Tucker scored the perfect game in the bottom of the sixth with a line play on a sharp line drive by the Hotel's Ron Hoffman.

Larry Martz of Craft Cleaners tossed a no-hitter against the Lions 10-0, to continue the league's tight patching. He struck out 17 batters while yielding three walks and led Craft's batters with a double and a single.

The Bankers picked up two wins in the week's action, including a 12-11 victory over Ellsworth to tie the Athletics for first place in the season's second half. They rallied for six runs in the bottom of the sixth to tie the game at 1-1, on a grand slam by Tim Moran. In the bottom of the seventh, Rich Sanders flicked, stole second and third, and scored on a shot to deep third by Kent Johnson, to give the Bankers the win.

Greg Christensen held Edinburg to four hits to lead the Bank to a 10-4 win. Charlie Brzezynski went three for three and Moran picked up two hits to pace the winners' attack.

Ellsworth salvaged a first-place tie with a tight 9-8 victory over Crafts as winning pitcher Joe Czeslowski scored the winning run in the bottom of the sixth. After two defensive lapses, Crafts had tied the score at 8-8 in the top of the inning, on an opposite field home run by Larry Moritz.

The Lions won their second game the year last week to take over third place in this half's standings, defeating Thornes 8-2. Paul Chambliss held the Druggists to four hits with support at the plate led by Wes McLean's two roundtrippers.

Graduation ceremonies for the League's 12-year-olds will be held Thursday, June 20, at the Princeton Junction Firehouse beginning at 7:30 p.m.
A film of the league's 1967 season will highlight the evening.

ACCELERATOR GAINS TIE.
For Business League Lead.
Accelerator won a pair of games last week and moved into a first place tie in the eastern division of the Business Softball League with McGraw-Hill, which could manage only a split in two games.

A three-way tie for first in the western division was broken when RCA Astro won both its games for a perfect 5-0 record. Almost all teams were involved in two contests, as most of the games rained out May 28 were rescheduled for last week.

Down two runs going into the bottom of the final inning against Shell, Accelerator pushed across three to capture an 11-10 decision. Two came across on a towering fly bapper to deep center by Joe Frangipani, and the winning tally scored when John Rzuczek doubled and Tom Wunderlick's grounder to short resulted in a two-base throwing error.

Wunderlick had four RBIs and the win went to Ed Fal-gillus, who relieved Jack Barlow in the third when Shell scored four runs. Jack Carson had three hits and Ridgely Johnson, two, for Shell, which led all the way until the final frame.

Hibbs Homers Twice. Accele-rator's other victory was at the expense of EMR, 18-2.
Three runs in the first and five more in the third wrapped up matters for the winners, who were paced by Barry Hibbs' four hits, including two home runs and four RBIs. Lee Buchanan collected two hits for the losers.

McGraw-Hill ran its win streak to four games with a 4-1 triumph over RCA. Jerry Jarecki had a triple and two RBIs in support of winning pitcher Tom Wood. Later in the week, however, McGraw-Hill lost a slugfest to Columbian Carbon, 12-11.

Forrest Parker, Al Rizzer, Tom Edgar and Tom Rotardi all slammed out three hits for Carbon. With Parker, Rizzer and Ben Zaleski hitting round trippers, Angie Vasti and James Maher had three hits and Larry Lee had a homer for McGraw-Hill.

The resurgent Carbon team had knocked off RCA B, 23-11, earlier and moved into a tie for third with a 3-2 mark. Joe Wiedenhafer hit for the circuit with a five-for-five performance and five RBIs. Losing pitcher Ed Krieger paced his team with four safeties in four at bats, including a home run.

RCA Astros' pair of victories came over Hopewell TV, 22-6 and ERC, 9-6. Mo Arno picked up the win for the Astros, giving up a home run to Don Machusak.

RCA A Ubeateo. ERC, which had been in the three-way tie for the top spot in the western division, lost its second contest to RCA A, 12-3. The Astros pounded out 12 hits, with John Meyer getting a home run. The win left RCA A a half game behind Astros with a 4-0 record; the rainout out contest with Hopewell TV was rescheduled for a later date.

American Cyanamid moved up a couple of notches in the league standings with a brace of triumphs. A good team effort and the pitching of Andy Zielinski produced a 7-3 win over ETS, and Bob Davis and Bob Bosley provided the hitting in an 8-1 victory over FMC. FMC finally got its first win of the season, beating Dow Jones, 22-14. Adrain Gosselin hit a grand slam and two doubles. Chris Rich and a homer and two doubles and Jerry Migliacci, two doubles and a triple for the winners.

Earlier in the week, Dow Jones had also recorded its first triumph, beating winless ETS, 9-8. Harry Rocks had a two-run home run for the winners.

ERC-MDI also was unable to achieve its first victory, losing to EMR, 18-9. Bruce Block, Duncan Kennedy and Al Kovacs paced the winners' hitting attack.

A six-run first inning for RCA turned out not to be enough, and it lost to RCA B, 9-8. Ed Krieger was three for four and Joe Wiecek blasted a home run. Lew Chapman turned

News Of The CHURCHES

SPECIAL SERVICES HELD
For Senator Kennedy. On four successive days memorial services were held in Princeton churches for the late Senator Robert F. Kennedy drawing capacity crowds.
At St. Paul's Catholic Church, five members of the Princeton Pastor's Association officiated at an 8 p.m. service on Thursday, the day of Senator Kennedy's death. Msgr. Edward C. Henry and the Rev. Kenneth S. Donahue, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, president of the pastoral group, made the arrangements.
Msgr. Henry was assisted at the service by the Rev. Frank Iazetta of St. Paul's, the Rev. Harold Thomas of Witherspoon Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Lubker Krieffall of Messiah Lutheran; and the Rev. James P. Whittemore of Trinity Episcopal Church.

University Chapel was filled on Friday for the 4:30 p.m. memorial service led by Dean Ernest Gordon. The members of Princeton's graduating class sponsored a service at 3:45 p.m. on Saturday, attended by alumni as well as undergraduates. Participants included Dean Gordon, President Robert F. Goheen, Commissioner of Higher Education Ralph Dungan and Kin Masters of the Class of 1968. The service, titled, "The Witness of the Class of 1968," concluded with "the singing of a fourth verse to 'We Shall Overcome,' beginning 'We shall live in peace,' composed by Mr. Masters. The congregation said the 'The Peace' from the new Episcopal Liturgy to their neighbors at the dismissal.

A fourth service, a High Mass of Memorial, was held Sunday in St. Paul's, with all pastors, clergy and congregations invited to participate.

FAMILIES INVITED
To PCUC Picnic-Programs. Four family picnics, followed by separate programs for adults and children, are scheduled for the summer by the Princeton Christian Unity Committee. Admission is free. Adult programs will include a dramatic "experience" for the non-professional show "The Concept" now playing off-Broadway. The cast will include young and old of various walks of life as the encounters. The drama, scheduled for Tuesday July 16, at the Stuart School of the Sacred Heart, will be directed by A. Monroe Wade.

Also planned are a report-committee titled "The Unknown Americans: Migrants" on Tuesday, July 30, at First Baptist Church, and a documentary film on Tuesday, August 13, at Princeton Methodist Church, which will follow the PCUC series theme, "Power and Poverty."

The final program, scheduled for Tuesday, August 27, at All Saints' Chapel, is titled "Young People Report," bringing together the Princeton youth who will have spent the summer working in a wide variety of youth-to-youth programs among Trenton Negroes, Montana Indians and migrants on central and south Jersey farms.

There will be games, sports and films for the children and nursery care for the very young, all under trained leaders. The picnics, outdoors or indoors, as the case may be, are set for 6:15 to 7 p.m. The programs will follow from 7 to 9 p.m. Families will be asked to bring a casserole dish or a dessert.

Members of the PCUC planning committee include Mrs. James E. McPherson of Calvary Baptist, convener; Mrs. Thomas E. Webb of Princeton Methodist, Mrs. Lawrence C. O'Brien and A. Monroe Wade of St. Paul's, Mrs. Albert J. Romeni, First Presbyterian; Judson Carter and Mrs. Elizabeth Butler of First Baptist; Mrs. William H. Cherry, All Saints' Chapel; A. Perry Morgan and Mrs. M.C. Miller, Trinity; Mrs. Charles West, representing Witherspoon, and Jerry Van Sant of Calvary Baptist, newly-elected co-chairman of PCUC.

BULLETIN NOTES

Summer service schedules begin in Sunday in several Princeton churches. Trinity Episcopal Church will hold worship services at 8 and 11 a.m. All Saints' Chapel services will be at 7:30 and 9 a.m. Weekday services at both churches remain unchanged.
First Presbyterian Church will conduct one Sunday service scheduled for 10 a.m. The July 7 and 21 union services with St. Andrew's and Witherspoon Presbyterian churches will be held at First, also at 10 a.m.

Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church deacons are sponsoring a family picnic from 1 to 5 Saturday at Field 49 at the Lawrenceville School. Members of the church and community are invited to attend, bringing a salad or covered dish, family plates and silver. Special games, prizes and softball are planned for the children.

An ecumenical service will be held by All Saints' Chapel, Calvary Baptist Church and Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church Sunday at 11 in Witherspoon. The Rev. Har-
